

ALPS OutdoorZ Now Offers the Backpack Blind Bag in Mossy Oak Blades

ALPS OutdoorZ continues to expand the application of Mossy Oak Shadow Grass Blades camo by offering this exceptional waterfowl pattern on the company's Backpack Blind Bag. In addition to Shadow Grass Blades, the proven Backpack Blind Bag is available in Realtree MAX-5.

Shadow Grass Blades is an ultra-realistic pattern ideally suited for vegetative fields and marsh-edge environments dominated by long grass. The use of deep shadow and contrasting highlights combine with real grass and thatch imagery to deliver a pattern with exceptional depth and blend for any "dead grass" setup.

The Backpack Blind Bag is the ideal gear transport for waterfowlers needing a hands-free equipment solution. The adjustable padded shoulder straps and waist belt work with an adjustable sternum strap to ensure good load distribution and a comfortable carry between the truck and the blind. The hallmark feature of the pack, however, is its self-standing hard-bottom construction, which helps keep the "wearable" portion of the pack dry and out of the muck. There are two main compartments that work great for most motion decoys.

Designed specifically for the waterfowler, the Backpack Blind Bag boasts a drop-down gun boot, leaving the hands free to carry decoys, a blind, or seat. Additional features include nine shell loops, three choke tube holders, and the bag is hydration compatible. The Backpack Blind Bag even comes with stowable game totes on the shoulder straps for bringing home the birds.
