New Haven, Mo. - Building on its reputation for delivering rugged, feature-packed hunting packs, ALPS OutdoorZ reveals the Contender X Whitetail Pack available in the new VEIL™ whitetail pattern.

Boasting a large 30L/1850 cu³ capacity, the Contender X addresses the needs of whitetail hunters for an all-day, high-performance gear solution. Designed for use in a tree stand or spot and stalk, the Contender X features a unique U-shaped zippered top panel that offers easy access to main compartment contents without spilling. An additional pocket for quick access to most used items can be utilized from the interior or exterior, as well as zippered waist belt pockets for small items. Multiple interior mesh pockets add to organizational convenience and versatility of the pack.

Keeping comfort in mind, a molded foam suspension system includes load lifters for custom weight adjustments. The built-in bow/gun pocket provides hands-free weapon carry in the field. Additional features include a hydration pocket with left- or right-side hydration ports, rain cover, while the waist belt accommodates clip-style holsters for carrying sidearms.

The Contender X pack is available in the all new VEIL™ Whitetail Pattern. This pattern offers a concealment that destroys the human outline, allowing the hunter to seemingly disappear, whether hunting spot and stalk, or stationary in blinds and treestands.
