ALPS OutdoorZ Announces Enhanced Turkey Bino Harness

NEW HAVEN, Mo. – Binoculars are an essential tool for many turkey hunters, especially those hunting in open country. The new Vantage bino harness from ALPS OutdoorZ was designed specifically with the turkey hunter in mind by combining a secure and convenient means of carrying binoculars along with the other turkey hunting essential—calls.

The Vantage harness features a padded back panel for comfortable all-day wear and the harness system is fully adjustable to accommodate everything from light camo to cold-weather clothing. The bino attachment straps are non-metallic to ensure optimal stealth, while an adjustable closure allows the system to be used with most binocular sizes. For easy bino retrieval, the case boasts a generous U-shape cut so optics can be pulled out even when wearing gloves.

Behind the bino case is a quick-access panel with slots to hold one slate call and two strikers. A mesh pocket on one side of the case provides secure storage for diaphragm calls. A box call is accommodated by a removable box call pocket. This pocket uses the MOLLE system to attach to one side or to the bottom of the case, leaving the other MOLLE webbing to secure a rangefinder pocket (sold separately). The Vantage also includes a lens cloth to keep glass clean in the field.

For spartan run-and-gun turkey action, the Vantage bino harness covers the gobbler hunter's most basic needs.
