ALPS OutdoorZ Introduces the Vital X, New Range Finder Accessory Pocket

New Haven, Mo. - ALPS OutdoorZ announces the addition of the Vital X to the 2018 Extreme line of pack accessories. "With the success of our Bino Harness X, the Vital X seems like a natural extension for any hunter to add to their collection," says Zach Scheidegger, ALPS OutdoorZ Product Manager. "It's nice to have the flexibility to keep your range finder close to your chest for less movement in the field."

Instead of rummaging through your hunting pack for your buried range finder, rely on the Vital X, which is always ready for the unexpected. Constructed with 1680D Nylon ballistic fabric for unmatched strength and durability, the Vital X range finder pocket is specifically designed for ease of use and versatility on the hunt or at the range. A simple, one-snap attachment system makes the Vital X compatible with the reputable Bino Harness X, as well as a wide variety of ALPS OutdoorZ packs. The padded main compartment—which will withstand the harshest conditions—provides a safe, compact storage space for your range finder. The ultra-quiet, magnetic lid on the Vital X allows for quick and easy access to your range finder when you are closing in on your target and every second counts. Weighing in at only 3 ounces and with a MSRP of only $19.99, the Vital X accessory piece is a no-brainer, essential for any hunter's arsenal.
